ERCOFTAC autumn festival
European Research Community On Flow, Turbulence And Combustion
Da Vinci competition

2014, october 15th -16th
CORIA UMR 6614, Rouen, France.

Travel

The best way to get to Rouen is to fly to any airports in Paris and then to reach Rouen by train, car or taxi.
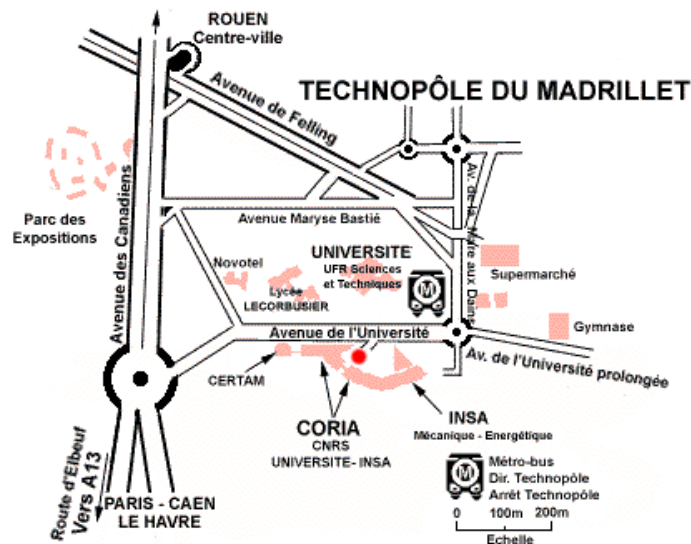

By Train ...

Trains go to Rouen from St Lazare Station (Paris) which is near Madeleine and the shops on Boulevard Haussmann. Trains go every hour but some are stopping trains or you may have to change. Please, check on the SNCF website for the direct fast train times.

In Rouen train station.

Metro line of Rouen

Be careful, 2 metros on the same line. Take "Technopole line" (blue line) in direction to technopole terminus. (ERCOFTAC_rouen_metro_map.pdf)

Then, refer to coria map proximity.

Car ...

Rouen is linked with Paris by the motorway A13 (130 km) taking near 1 hour and thirty minutes by car. The Rouen-England connection is done by the A28 motorway and the Channel Tunnel.

For all your trips in France, we recommend to have a look on the following web site: http://www.viamichelin.com.